

Keychain

Keychain is the password management system in the mac operating system. When your password is changed by force, sometimes the old keychain does not update automatically. When this happens, the user will be asked to enter the keychain password over and over.

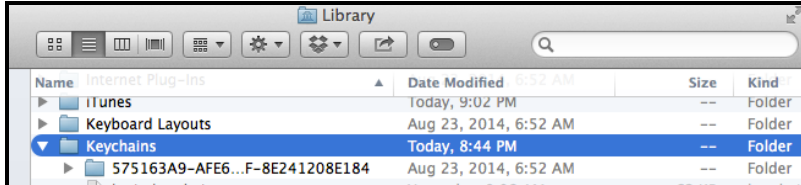

To fix a problem with the Keychain, click on the desktop

In the Finder menu at the top of the desktop, click Go

Hold down the Option key and click on Library

Scroll down to the Keychains folder

Delete the folder with the long string of numbers

Restart the machine
